

Week 15 (12/23/02)

Maximal gravity

Given a point P in space, and given a piece of malleable material of constant density, how should you shape and place the material in order to create the largest possible gravitational field at P ?