Equal segments

Given a line segment, a line parallel to it, and a straightedge, divide the segment into N equal segments. (With a straightedge, you are allowed only to draw straight lines. You are not allowed to mark off distances on the straightedge.)